Zachary Nobles is a graduate of Pine Valley Central School in Chautauqua county. He attended Erie County Community College where he earned an associates degree in Architectural Construction Technology. Upon completing his studies at ECC, he enrolled at Buffalo State College (University) where he received his Master Degree in Technology Teacher Education/Industrial Arts with a minor in Environmental Science. Upon graduation, he was employed as a Technology Teacher at Cassadaga Valley Central school. He is currently a Field Operations Manager with telecommunications company, Verizon.

Mr. Nobles and his wife Kim have two children, Carter and Turner. One of the primary reasons Zachary decided to run for the Gowanda Board of Education is that he cares a great deal about his own children's educational experience and cares about the community where he and his wife reside. During Mr. Nobles tenure on the Gowanda CSD Board of Education Mr. Nobles would like to assist administration and staff in broadening the academic opportunities for the students in the district as well ensuring that the district maintains an emphasis on safety in the buildings and throughout the district.

A few of Zachary's mentors/heroes in his life have been instructors he has had at the different academic institutions he has attended. He has a great deal of respect for one of his professors, Clarke Green. He also was very influenced by his high school agriculture teacher at Pine Valley High School, Mr. Isaac Habermehl.

During Mr. Nobles free time, he enjoys bicycling, woodworking, and most recently, he has discovered the sport of pickle ball.

If ECASB members are visiting the Gowanda CSD school community, Zachary would highly recommend visiting the Wicked Glen Restaurant for a great burger, and Goodes restaurant for a good breakfast.
